

Gay Relationships

A workshop for gay men focusing on research and tools for building healthy relationships

Did you know that gay couples resolve conflicts better than straight couples? Learn about this and other groundbreaking research on the strengths of gay couples in this hands-on workshop for couples and single men. Gain new tools and ideas for building your optimal relationship. Facilitated by Dr. Dan Yoshimoto, Director of Research at the Relationship Research Institute, and author of numerous articles about gay and straight relationships.

Wednesday, July 9

6:30 - 8:30 p.m.

Held at Jewish Family Service
1601 16th Avenue, Seattle

$10/person. Scholarships are available; please ask.
Space is limited and pre-registration required.

Contact Adam at (206) 861-8784 or familylife@jfsseattle.org.

JEWISH FAMILYSERVICE